Mr. Cannady objected to this motion, and defended the bill with much ability. The motion to lay on the table did not prevail; and the bill then passed its second reading.

Mr. Joyner moved to take up the bill to increase the capital stock of the commercial Bank of Wilmington. Motion prevailed—bill was taken up.

The Hour of 12 o'clock having arrived, the Senate proceeded to vote, as follows, for a U. S. Senator:

For Mr. Dobbin—Mr. Speaker, Barrow, Berry, Bower, Boyd, Brogden, Bunting, Caldwell, Canady, Clark, Collins, Cuningham, Drake, Hargrave, Herring, Hoke, Jones of Wake, Kerr, McDowell, McMillan, Person, Shaw, Speight, Thomas, Ward, and Withers—26.

For Mr. Rayner—Messrs. Albright, Arendell, Bynum, Cowper, Gilmer, T. F. Jones, Joyner, Kelly, Lane, Lillington, McCleese, Mitchell, Murray, Palmer, Parks, Steele, Thompson, Washington, Willey and Woodfin—20.

Mr. Watson voted for Mr. Shepard.

Mr. Albritton voted for Mr. R. S. Donnell.

Col. Murchison is absent—called away by an accident which occurred to his family, a day or two since, while on their way to this city.

Mr. Cuningham moved to send a message to the House of Commons, proposing to vote again forthwith for U. S. Senator. Agreed to.

Order of the day, being the bill to lay off Congressional Districts, it was read,

And Mr. Berry moved to strike out all after the enacting clause, and insert as a substitute the bill presented by himself.

Mr. L. Thompson opposed the substitute.

Mr. Berry defended his plan, in a speech of some length, exhibiting, by statistical information, that his plan was not ungenerous, or illiberal, but perfectly fair—showing that in 1846 the Whigs carried five of the Districts now proposed in his plan, and the Whigs had no right to complain of the substitute.

Mr. Steele spoke against the substitute, as unjust and unfair.

Mr. Hoke advocated the substitute; he thought the plan left it very doubtful which of the two parties of the State would have a majority of the Representatives in Congress. He said the plans of either would not be very objectionable—the great Democratic party being on the increase, but the plan proposed by the Senator from Orange was just and fair, and right was all he desired.

Mr. Thompson offered as an amendment to the amendment a plan for the Eighth Congressional District.

Mr. Bynum moved to lay the bill on the table and print the amendment. Adopted.

The hour of 10 o'clock having arrived, the Senate proceeded to vote for an Attorney General, as follows:

For Mr. Eaton—Mr. Speaker, Barrow, Berry, Bower, Boyd, Brogden, Bunting, Caldwell, Cannady, Clark, Collins, Cunningham, Drake, Hargrave, Herring, Hoke, W. Jones, Kerr, McDowell, McMillan, Person, Shaw, Speight, Watson, Ward and Withers.

For Mr. Ransom—Messrs. Albright, Arendell, Bynum, Cowper, Gilmer, T. F. Joues, Joyner, Kelly, Lane, Lillington, McCleese, Mitchell, Murray, Palmer, Parks, Richardson, Steele, Thompson, Washington, Willey and Woodfin.

Mr. Hoke moved to re-consider the vote by which the North Carolina and Atlantic Railroad was rejected on yesterday.

Mr. Cunningham called for the yeas and nays, and the motion was rejected.

Mr. Watson moved to send a message to the House to vote for a Judge of the Superior Court to-morrow at 12 o'clock. Not agreed to.

Mr. Bynum moved that from and after this day the Senate take a recess from 1½ o'clock to 3½ o'clock. Adopted.

Mr. Smith demanded the yeas and nays, and the bill was rejected—yeas 41, nays 65.

The special order, being the bill to divide the State into fifty Senatorial districts, was taken up, the question being on the amendment proposed by Mr. McIntyre; and the House resolved itself into committee of the whole, Mr. Long, of Randolph, in the chair.

Mr. McIntyre addressed the committee in favor of his amendment. Mr. Reid of Duplin, followed and spoke until 12 o'clock, when the House proceeded to vote for Senator, Messrs. W. Turner and W. H. Lyon superintending the election.

The democrats all voted for Mr. Dobbin except Christmas and Love, who voted for J. R. J. Daniel; Mr. Byrd, who voted for Mr. Clingman; Mr. Cotten who voted for Mr. Shepard; and Mr. Saunders, who voted for Mr. Craige.

All the whigs voted for Mr. Rayner except Messrs. Mills, Stiles and Teague who voted for Mr. Clingman; Mr. Holeman, who voted for Mr. Graham; and Mr. Tripp, who voted for Mr. Kerr.

In the House Mr. Dobbin received 49 votes, Mr. Rayner 53, scattering 10.

Mr. Reid, of Duplin, moved to postpone the further consideration of the bill until 1½ o'clock, which did not prevail—yeas 51, nays 59.

Mr. Reid continued his remarks, and had to give way, the hour having arrived for voting for Attorney General.

Messrs. Ransom and Eaton were in nomination.

The whigs voted for Mr. Ransom except Mr. Smith who voted for Mr. Eaton, and Mr. Godwin, who voted for Mr. Rogers.

The democrats voted for Mr. Eaton except Messrs. Christmas and Love, who voted for Mr. Ransom, and Mr. Cotten, who voted for Mr. Rogers.

The whole number of votes cast was 161. Necessary to a choice 81. Mr. Eaton received 79; Mr. Ransom 80; and Mr. Rogers 2. No election.

Mr. Reid concluded his remarks upon the bill for laying off the Senatorial districts. Mr. McIntyre replied, occupying the floor until 2 o'clock, when the House took a recess.

EVENING SESSION.

A number of bills and resolutions were introduced, and if they should escape the vortex in the whirlpool of business at the end of the session, they will be noticed on their reappearance.

DEBATE

On the bill to establish a Bank at Charlotte.

Mr. Marshall moved the indefinite postponement of the bill.

Mr. Hill, of Caswell, said he hoped that the bill would not be postponed, but that it would pass. He said that no place in the State was needing a bank more than the people of Mecklenburg; it was a large tax paying county—the county asked for no appropriations, the bank was to be established in an important cotton growing section of the State, and while banking interests of other quarters of the State had been attended to, must this be neglected? Charlotte was now the terminus of two important railroads, and a cotton market had been established there, and that a bank was as much needed in the town of Charlotte as any in the State, and hoped that the bill would not be postponed, but passed; it had been passed in the Senate, and he supposed it could not be very objectionable or it would not have passed that body with such majority, and to receive the sanction of the Judiciary committee.

Mr. Black next followed and said he hoped that the bill would not be postponed, but receive the hearty sanction of this House, as it did in the other branch of the Legislature. He said in the few remarks he wished to submit he would not trouble the House with an argument upon the principles as held by the two political parties in reference to the question of banking or wait to draw lines of distinction between those parties as held now or in days that are past, for if such things were at all applicable they had been already sufficiently expounded by wiser and sager heads. He said the reasons why there should be a bank established at Charlotte as he understood, would naturally come under these inquiries: Can North Carolina, with profit and propriety, increase her bank stock? if so is Charlotte an important point, the necessities of the place demanding such an institution? If the House was satisfied of these things, the only inquiry left is, is the bank well founded, is it surrounded by the proper gards and restraints, so as to secure all from danger into whose hands its notes may fall?

He said as to the first suggestion, the Legislature in its wisdom had already decided in effect that the State can increase her bank stock with profit; that he learned from the debate upon this floor that our sister State, South Carolina, had some ten millions of dollars profitably employed in bank stock, Virginia some nine millions, yet North Carolina had but about four millions; he thought North Carolina could with profit increase her bank stock, and most espécially so since our State was so rapidly increasing her products, and those products fast finding a market within the limits of our own State; he took it for granted, judging from the action of the Legislature, that the charter would be granted if the Assembly was satisfied that Charlotte and the interest of the surrounding country demanded such an institution. He then insisted that Charlotte was an important point, that it was the most flourishing and business place in western North Carolina. As an index of the prosperity of his county you would see by a reference to the Comptrollers Report that Mecklenburg had increased her State tax $668 in the last year, and with the exception of about three counties, if his memory served him, gave a greater increase than any county in the State. Since the completion of the Railroad to that place a cotton market had been opened up, and, although but a short time since, he was informed that the streets were crowded with waggons and carts, and the side-walks lined with cotton; the sales of which was several hundred bales per day—that cotton was hauled in from the surrounding counties, and at this time was hauled in and sold in Charlotte more than half the distance from that place to the town of Cheraw. He said that the county of Mecklenburg and those surrounding were filled with an industrious and enterprising people, growing not only large quantities of cotton, but of corn, wheat, and many other articles which would find a market in the town of Charlotte; that two plankroads were now being constructed from that place in the direction of the mountains, and a bill lying on the Speaker's table to construct one from that place to the town of Cheraw, S. C., and of course would necessarily be a market for a considerable portion of the mountain trade, and when there was a market, trade would be drawn to that point and the means necessary to accommodate that trade should be favored by a mutual and corresponding loan; that nothing could accommodate the wants of that trade so well as the establishment of a well regulated bank; that merchants had to borrow money, and to borrow for the purpose of facilitating a trade of this nature, which was not only for the benefit of themselves but for the whole community, should be had upon the most accommodating terms. He said previous to this time the large amount of produce grown in his quarter of the State found a market in South Carolina, and the grower was paid off in South Carolina notes, but now the market was removed into the limits of our own Mecklenburg, within our own North Carolina, and it was not longer necessary that the grower should be paid off in South Carolina notes, but a bank should be established, and pay them in our own notes. But he asked what was the facts of the case? At this time he was informed by gentlemen of respectability from his village that some four or five bank agencies from South Carolina were established in Charlotte, and already some 150,000 or 200,000 dollars, not of North Carolina but of South Carolina notes, had been expended in the purchase of cotton. He said it was true there was a State agency established in his town, but it was not sufficient to meet the demands of its trade, nor did he think that the bank funds necessary to accomodate the trade of his town should be left to the mercy accomodation of the State bank. If funds must be borrowed to accomodate the trade of the place not establish a bank of our own and let our own izens enjoy the profits; he submitted that such reasons why there should be a bank establish Charlotte.

He said as to the suggestion, whether or not bank was well founded and was surrounded by proper guards and restrictions of his own knowl he confessed he could not tell, for of banking he k nothing, and could only say, if the banks alr established in the State are established upon a pr basis the bank of Charlotte will be secure, for charter is drawn strictly after the letter of those e lished. In case of insolvency or inability to red their notes the private property of stockholders bound for double the amount of stock subscribe and, as in other banks, its whole financial affairs be submitted to the Treasury and Legislature of State. In asking for a charter of this bank he as for nothing but what the interest of the country manded. He asked for no appropriation, his c built their own improvements, the construction which has given birth to the great western enterp which, at no distant day, judging from the signs the times, is destined to unite the mountains and seaboard. He desired not to build up a bank to f or schemes of speculation, but to favor the wants accommodations of the country. There was no co ty in the State where there was less of this spirit of speculation than in Mecklenburg. Prudence economy and industry had always characterized citizens. Grant a charter of a bank which is mo needed, curbed and controlled by the restrictions its charter, guided by the prudence and skill of o citizens, under the guardian care of the Legislatur we trust that the power granted will never be a bused.

Gen. Saunders said he did not rise to make a spee but to put himself right before the House, and gi the reasons why he would vote for the charter this bank. He said he had not voted for a sing bank bill during the session, and did not know that would vote for any other after this. He was oppo ed to the plan of establishing so many banks; bu thought the commercial interests of Charlotte require a bank. He would have been better pleased had th capital stock not been so large, he thought $250,00 would have been large enough, but would not ra an objection. He said that Charlotte was now a important point, it was the terminus of two Railroa the South Carolina and North Carolina Railroa That it was an extensive cotton growing section the country, and that an important trade would b carried on in Charlotte. He thought its claims s perior to any other presented, and hoped that the bi would pass.

FRANKLIN INSTITUTE.

MR. EDITOR: It has seldom fallen to our lot witness more interesting academical exercises tha occurred at the Franklin Institute on the 2nd and 3d instant. We were both gratified and delighted wit the good taste with which they were planned, and th skill exhibited in their execution. Prof. Richardson had met with strong opposition in his labors to estab lish this Institution on a permanent basis, and just a success seemed to have crowned his efforts, some remorseless incendiary applied the fatal torch, and had the fiendish satisfaction of seeing what was once a beautiful and excellent edifice, consecrated to th best of purposes, but a mass of mouldering, smoking ruins. The entire loss of the building, appurtenances and books of the pupils, was estimated at about $17,000. In commemoration of the sad catastrophe, th students assembled on the night of the 2nd, in front of the old Academy, after the evening exercises of declamation and dialogue; and in torch light procession marched with measured tread to the hallowed spot—the band the while playing a funeral dirge. A coffin, constructed for the occasion, was placed upon a bier, and carried in procession, by some of the smaller boys, while two transparencies—the one representing the burning Academy—the other two new Academies with the "Resurrection" for its motto, were carried in front. Hundreds of spectators were present to witness the solemn and affecting scenes. It was impossible to refrain from tears, as each pupil repeated and consigned to the coffin an apostrophe to some favorite author. There was one who had lost a Bible, given him by his dying father, whose last request was that with it he should never part. The quivering lip and stifled utterance of this young man elicited sympathetic tears from more than one spectator. After the ceremonies the coffin was interred with deep solemnity, when the transparency of the burning academy was removed and the "Resurrection" was erected over the grave, and three hearty cheers were given for the Resurrection. Having retired a short distance, his pupils presented the Principal with a singularly constructed hammer made of the clapper of the melted bell. This presentation was accompanied by an address appropriate, complimentary and encouraging, to which the donee responded in a most happy and tender manner. The company then returned to the Old Academy, when to carry out the farce, one of the students representing the incendiary, cautiously approached from the woods and applied a torch to the transparency, when the shout of discovery was raised—pursuit and capture followed, and he was thrown out of the Academy window, as over the Tarpean Rock.

All the exercises were both moral and interesting, and demonstrated that though misfortune had clouden the pathway of those concerned, their heroic spirit was still unbroken. On the next day, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the examination was well attended. Nearly all the student's books had been consumed, a week before, and they hence labored under great disadvantage. The last part of the session, generally devoted to close revies, had been lost to them. All however acquitted themselves exceedingly well.

Mr. Simmons, of Wake Forest College, at the instance of the Principal, carried them through a rigid examination, which was highly gratifying to all parents and guardians present, and pronounced very favorable for thoroughness of scholarship. The auditory was then entertained by declamation and dialogues and a few speeches from Josiah Dogskin, a young man, who would immortalize himself as a comedian on a proper stage. The students were then addressed by Mr. Thos. H. Pritchard of W. F. College. The youthful orator opened with a modest apology for presuming to counsel those of whom some were his elders, and if any were inclined to regard him with prejudice because of his youth, his handsome introduction paved the way for a favorable reception of his remarks. Kindling with his theme, he soon raised himself and his audience to a forgetfulness of themselves, and everything else but his subject. As he progressed, the interest of the audience become more intense. At times their eyes sparkled with heroic enthusiasm—then their souls would be softened and melted as he skilfully touched the responsive chords of the human heart. His effort of half an hour was regarded as a most happy one, and all regretted that he was not more lengthy. His production was terse, full of thought, and eloquent, and not only did so young a man great credit, but what was more it stimulated the noble and generous to still greater exertions for excellence, while it there was any one there, living in the neglect of his highest duties, he must have been powerfully moved to amend his life; but the pleasure of the occasion was not yet over. A Party came off the night of the 3d, which was conducted with great propriety, and much praise is due the gentlemanly students for their exertions to make every one enjoy themselves. We could tell you, Mr. Editor, of the bright faces—the sparkling wit, and the merry laughs, as evidences of the pleasure of the evening; but we will only say that 'twas three o'clock before the ladies left the Party Room. On the whole, sir, we were much pleased with every thing we saw. Prof. Richardson is a gentleman and an efficient teacher. He pays great attention to a part of education too much neglected in Classical Schools, we mean the cultivation of the English branches, especially the English language. He is one of the very best elocutionists in the country, as his public exercises always demonstrates. There is much sympathy for him throughout the country. He has been wronged, grievously wronged, and we do hope that the Trustees and his friends will erect an edifice more beautiful and convenient than the one that has been burned, and that they will sustain a man who is doing so much for the good of his community and the country. I am sir, with great respect,

A VISITOR.

The Surplus Revenue of the General Government has reached the amount of $20,000,000, and it is said that the Secretary of the Treasury will recommend that it be appropriated to the redemption of the public debt, at the prices the stocks bear in the market.

THE STANDARD.

RALEIGH, SATURDAY, DEC. 18, 1852.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Our readers will find, under the appropriate head, the proceedings of this body from Tuesday to Thursday, inclusive.

On Wednesday the bill providing for a Railroad from Goldsborough to Beaufort was rejected in the Senate; and on Thursday the bill to amend the charter of the Cape Fear and Deep River Navigation Company, and for the relief of the same, passed its third reading in that body, and was ordered to be enrolled.

On the same day Walter L. Steele, Esq., of Richmond, was elected a Trustee of the University. There are three vacancies yet to be filled.

On Thursday the two Houses voted for Senator and for Attorney General. No election. For vote, see proceedings. The two Houses will, in all probability, vote again to-day, (Friday) for Senator.

On the same day the subject of the Congressional Districts was debated in the Senate, and that of the Senatorial Districts in the House.

The bill to establish a Bank in Plymouth was rejected in the Senate on Thursday.

ADJOURNMENT.

Both Houses of our Legislature have agreed to adjourn sine die on Wednesday next. We cannot think it probable that they will be able to adjourn by that day, but they may do so, provided the Senatorial Districts, the Commons apportionment, and of the Congressional Districts shall have been finally acted on. These important subjects have not been fully discussed, but the Committees have reported, and the bills, having been printed, have been no doubt thoroughly examined by members.

Up to this time about twenty-five public acts, fifty private acts, and twenty resolutions have been enrolled.

The session has not been a very harmonious one. Parties are balanced, and for this reason it is not easy to reach final action on any important question. We can only hope that the remainder of the session will be productive of better results than many seem to anticipate; and that the good old State—whatever may be done or omitted—will continue to advance in intelligence and prosperity.

CONGRESS.

Nothing of general importance has taken place in this body since our last.

On Monday the Secretary of the Senate read a note from Mr. King, the Vice President, who is ill, requesting Mr. Atchison to occupy the Chair during the day. Some vacancies in Committees were filled, and then Mr. Underwood spoke in relation to the Kentucky contested election case.

During these proceedings, a parasol dropped from the hand of a lady in the gallery, which fell, point downward, on the head of the Hon. Mr. Pearce of Maryland, cutting him severely, but not seriously. Mr. P., after some time, resumed his seat in the Senate.

After the transaction of the morning business, the House, on the same day, went into a Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union, (Mr. Stuart in the chair,) wherein the resolution for the distribution of the message among the various standing committees was discussed by Messrs. Jones of Pennsylvania, Johnson of Georgia, and Malony.

The committee then rose; and after passing a resolution designating who should be admitted on the floor as reporters, and how seats should be assigned to them, the House adjourned.

In the course of the day's proceedings a resolution was passed to terminate the current debate on the message on Wednesday next, at 2, p. m.

Vice President King was still unwell on Tuesday, and Mr. Atchison presided. Eulogies were pronounced upon Mr. Webster by Messrs. Davis, Butler, Cass and Seward. The Senate then adjourned.

In the House, on the same day, the motion to refer that portion of the President's message in relation to the Tariff, was debated.

☞ An act has been passed by the present Legislature which has long been needed, and which will be the means of saving much time to that body. It is an act to incorporate Literary Institutions and Benevolent and Charitable Societies. It provides that persons, not less then seven, desiring to be incorporated for such purposes, shall declare in writing, over their names, before the Clerk of the County Court, their corporate name, the business proposed, the place where it is to be carried on, the length of time, not exceeding thirty years, and the names of persons who have subscribed to the same—the whole to be transmitted to and filed in the office of the Secretary of State, and the Governor then to issue letters patent under the great seal of the State.

☞ We regret to state that Col. Murchison, the Senator from Cumberland, was called home a few days since by a painful domestic affliction.

We learn that Mr. Richardson, of Anson, paired off with him.

☞ W. N. H. Smith, Esq., was on Wednesday last re-elected by the Legislature Solicitor for the 1st Judicial District. There are two Solicitors still to be elected, and an Attorney General.

Musical Concert. We are requested to state that Charles Lœhr, the pianist, and Fred. Hermann, assisted by J. Hilderbrand, will give a Grand Concert at Frensley's Hall, to-night, Friday.

☞ Gov. Reid gave a levee on Tuesday evening last, which, considering the inclemency of the weather, was very well attended.

SCENES IN THE COMMONS.

The Commons Hall was the arena of a struggle last Tuesday evening in which the Whig members showed "great firmness of purpose," if not much "strength of intellect." At half-past three o'clock the "non-intervention" resolutions introduced by Mr. Leach on Saturday were taken up. Messrs. Avery, S. P. Hill and other Democrats opposed them on the ground that they were inexpedient and unnecessary; and as they were likely to consume much time in discussing them Mr. Hill moved to lay them upon the table. The Whigs having a majority refused to do so. Mr. Avery stated that as the resolutions were broad and unqualified in their nature he could not support them, as he deemed it the duty of our government to interfere in case Spain should attempt to cede the island of Cuba to any other power, and this the resolutions condemned. He therefore proposed to add an amendment making this exception to the sweeping character of the resolutions; and Whigs voted it down. Mr. Hill proposed an amendment that the resolutions should not be construed to prohibit the United States government from interfering in case any European power should attempt to establish a monarchy on our continent; and this the Whigs also voted down! Mr. Avery then proposed to amend by declaring that the resolutions should not extend to the prohibition of interference when it was necessary for self-protection; and Whigs voted down even this!!

Thus according to Whig principles, as developed in the House of Commons, Spain may cede Cuba to Great Britain, France, or any other power—the Czar of Russia may establish a monarchy in Mexico, and any other nation may jeopard our laws and institutions by any means they please, and our government should not interfere to prevent it. The novelty of such doctrine is only equalled by its monstrosity.

The session was prolonged until nearly eight o'clock at night, and great excitement and confusion prevailed most of the time. The resolutions were no doubt intended as a firebrand to inflame party animosity; and the Democratic members viewing them in this light, and considering them objectionable also on account of their broad and unqualified nature, and looking upon them as mere abstractions, with no binding force, no practical bearing, opposed them. When the vote was taken there was scarcely a quorum present. The Whigs claim their passage as a victory, but we consider it a very empty one. We have heard several Whigs regret that they were introduced at all—in fact we believe a majority of them regretted it; but as they were introduced they stuck to party and voted for them. Several Democrats also voted for them, as they believed the principles embodied in them generally correct. At the same time they protested against them as useless, and calculated only to consume time. For further particulars see proceedings.

On Wednesday evening another scene was enacted. A large number of the Sons of Temperance having met in the City for the purpose of holding a Convention, Mr. Spruill of Bertie offered a resolution tendering them the use of the Commons Hall at night. Col. McNeill of Robeson, advocated the resolution in a very animated speech. Several members opposed it, the most conspicuous among whom was Mr. Miller, the member from Caldwell. A motion to lay the resolution upon the table having been voted down, this gentleman sprang to his feet, very much excited, and declared his intention to speak until midnight. After speaking for a few moments the "noise and confusion" became so great that the Speaker had the lobbies cleared. Mr. Spruill at length withdrew the resolution, saying he did so to avoid a scene disgraceful to the State. A motion to adjourn at last prevailed, and put an end to a contest which was calculated to reflect no credit upon the House.

TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

This body assembled in this City on the 15th instant. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather and the wretched condition of the roads, there were about 160 delegates present. The utmost harmony prevailed, and we learn that the sentiment was unanimous that the people of the State demanded some amendments to the liquor laws of the State.

The following are the officers chosen:

President—Rev. N. Z. Graves, of Warren.

Vice Presidents—W. H. Morning, of Johnston, A. H. Ray, of Franklin, Prof. J. B. White, of Wake Forest College, and John B. Odom, of Northampton.

Secretaries—Prof. W. C. Doub, of Greensboro' Female College, and Dr. W. H. Johnson, of Alamance.

The Committee appointed for the purpose, reported that memorials from the different portions of the State had been received, with the names of 10,585 voters attached, also, 4,125 ladies, and 163 youths.

A committee was appointed to prepare a communication to the Legislature to accompany the presentation of the memorials, &c.

The Convention continued its sessions till the afternoon of the 16th, when it adjourned.

We learn that A. M. Gorman, Esq., Editor of the Spirit of the Age, was taken seriously ill on the morning of the 15th, which accounts for his absence from the sittings of the Convention.

☞ In France, as was expected, the people have declared with great unanimity for the empire. The vote was cast on the 21st and 22d of November. The ceremony was conducted with marked order and decorum. The returns from eighty-three departments are, including the army and navy, yeas 7,200,000, nays 250,000. Napoleon was doubtless proclaimed emperor on the 2d of November, the anniversary of three important epochs in French history—the coronation of his uncle, the battle of Austerlitz, and his coup d'etat. It is said that immediately on his assumption of the imperial dignity, he designs publishing a manifesto to the world, and one to France, both to be essentially pacific in their character. These of course will not in the slightest degree be indicative of his course. He is a cunning, slippery politician, possessed of a towering hereditary ambition. These characteristics are hardly of a pacific cast.

MASONIC.

The Grand Lodge of North Carolina, which convened in this city, on the 6th instant, adjourned on the 10th. There was an unusually large attendance, and the proceedings were interesting and harmonious. The fraternity appear to be in a very prosperous condition. Ten new charters were granted during the past year; Lodges are multiplying and the membership increasing.

At the late annual communication the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Alonzo T. Jerkins,	Grand	Master.
Luke Blackmer,	"	Senior Warden,
William P. Taylor,	"	Junior "
C. W. D. Hutchings,	"	Treasurer,
William T. Bain,	"	Secretary,

The following appointments were made by the Grand Master:

Cyrus P. Mendenhall,	Dep. Grand	Master.
Rev. M. C. Breaker,	"	Chaplain,
Joseph Green,	"	Sr. Deacons,
Ed. R. Stanly,	"	Jr. "
Jas. T. Marriott,	"	Steward,
M. O. Outton,	"	Marshall,
W. F. S. Alston,	"	S'ord Bearer,
P. H. Winston,	"	Pursuivant,
James S. Terrell,	"	Tyler.

The scarcity of silver coin is well accounted for in the annexed paragraph from the London News:

"As we stated would be the case, in the Daily News of Friday, the price of silver has again experienced an extraordinary advance. The supplies brought in by the Magdalena were sold to-day at 5s. ¼d. per ounce for dollars, and 5s. 1¼d. per ounce standard for bar silver. The total advance represented by these figures on the prices realized at the last sale is no less than ¾d. per ounce. This sudden rise, which is unprecedented within the recollection of the brokers, is almost entirely caused by the strength of the demand for India, to which quarter almost the whole of these supplies is going. We can also state that some considerable parcels of French 5f. pieces have lately been sold at 5s. ¼d. per ounce, a very high price for this article, yet at this rate the operation yields but a very trifling profit. From this fact, it will readily be seen that the operation of buying French 5f. pieces for transmission to India is a very extraordinary circumstance, and consequently worthy of especial notice. As surprise is frequently expressed at this extraordinary upward movement of the price of silver, and the causes of it are much canvassed, it may be as well to mention that the movement is perfectly in the due course of trade, and is chiefly caused by the demand for coin for circulation in our vast India possessions, on its arrival in which the metal is duly melted down and coined into rupees of the East India Company."

JONESBOROUGH RAIL ROAD.

The report of the Legislative proceedings embrace every item of information at all important. The bill to charter a bank to be located in Charlotte, has passed the Senate and in the House has been referred to the Judiciary Committee. We hope the Charter will be granted without hesitation. Banking capital is much needed here—the rapid growth and great increase of commercial business make it necessary for the accommodation and convenience of the community. Maj. Caldwell urged its passage with his usual ability and has succeeded in getting it through the Senate—its fate is now in the House.

The Legislature will we hope grant a charter for a Road from this point to Jonesboroegh—the building of which is not only practicable but highly judicious. The friends of this enterprise do not ask the State to appropriate one dime towards its construction, although it will connect with the State Road here, and penetrating as it will the valley of the Tennessee one of the most fertile regions on the globe, it must be beneficial to the State. If the State should wish a better connexion than the one from this point, she can throw off a branch intersecting it anywhere, even at the foot of the Blue Ridge. Let her make the connexion between Goldsborough and Beaufort, thereby building up a sea-port town in her border, with a capacious harbor and then take up the Jonesborough road at some point near the Tennessee line, and then she will bring her towns on the Atlantic in direct competition with Charleston for this valuable trade, and will thus give her citizens the benefit of the most desirable markets.

The State should in its legislation endeavor to throw open the markets of the world to her citizens, and not by artificial means attempt to force trade in an unnatural direction—trade like water will seek its level, and naturally flow where there is the greatest demand and consequently the most advantageous terms offered it.

If the Road is built as we have suggested—if Wilmington or Beaufort will give more for the productions of this vast and fertile region than Charleston it will go there, if not, they ought to be able to find an outlet to a market that will pay higher prices—the Road should be built for the benefit of the agriculturist and not to produce a monopoly for the benefit of any particular town. The Jonesborough Road is not only feasible, but it can and will be built without costing the State a cent—all we ask for then is a charter. The State can (and doubtless ought to) make a connexion with it any point she pleases, because she will have the territorial jurisdiction of nearly the whole line. Let Morganton build a branch to connect with it at the most eligible point, and the counties west of her build plank roads which will greatly facilitate their means of transportation. When the resources of the country become more fully developed, its agricultural productions larger and more valuable, and its territory more thickly settled, then this line of Rail Road can be extended through the Black mountain to the Tennessee line.

Western Democrat.

Foreign Intervention on this Continent. Public attention has recently been attracted to the revolutionary movement in the State of Sonora on the Pacific, which has led to a declaration of independence made by the victorious insurgents and to the annexation of that State to France. The New York Herald of Monday, contains several important particulars, the dates of which are from Guayamas, up to the 12th November. It is asserted that Count Boulbon is commander of an expedition fitted out in San Francisco, by a large commercial house in Mexico for the purpose of working the mines of Almedal, situated about equi-distant from Guayamas and Hermosilla, the capital of the State of Sonora. On taking possession of the mines he was ordered to leave by another party, fitted out in Mexico and supported by Gen. Blanco. This Count Boulbon refused to do, and an engagement ensued, which resulted in the rout of the Mexicans under Gen. Blanco. The Mexicans are reported to have numbered about 2,000—the French under Count Boulbon only 250. Fifteen of the French were killed, and a large number of the Mexicans killed and wounded. Count Boulbon then marched on Hermosilla, the capital of Sonora, took the place, declared Sonora independent, and with his handful of men, was encamped within one league of Guayamas, when the vessel which brought this news to Acapulco left. The inhabitants of Guayamas had all left the place—most of them having fraternized with the French. The French troops, or miners, were in straightened circumstances; but there is no doubt but that if they can hold out until reinforcements can reach them from San Francisco, Sonora will maintain her independence. *Rich. Bound to Smoke. Thursday afternoon a gentleman accompanied by a lady, got upon one of the cars in New York, for the purpose of riding down-town. The lady took a seat inside, while the gent, who was smoking a prime Havana, took a stand upon the platform. The Conductor gently tapped him upon the shoulder, and politely informed him that no smoking was allowed upon the cars. "Not outside" said the gent—"No" replied the Conductor—well then said the individual, I paid 4 cents for this cigar, and as I have smoked about one fourth of it, I'll throw it away if you give me three cents. The Conductor demurred to the operation, whereupon the gent continued smoking, till he left the car.

The State elections in California had resulted in the choice of six democrats and seven whigs to the Senate, and forty-one democrats to nineteen whigs in the House. Three districts remain to be heard from.

Large numbers of Chinese were returning home, and the emigration was now small.

For the Standard.

"SHALL THE PEOPLE RULE"?

Mr. Holden: Through your columns I wish to ask an honest people if they believe in a republican form of Government? (which I believe every North Carolinian does,) if so—why not let the people rule? They have elected a Democratic President and Vice President; they have elected a Democratic Legislature—and, as a matter of course, they wish a Democratic United States Senator, in order to carry out Democratic principles, which Democrats believe to be their country's principles; for what have Democrats labored in the last three popular elections in North Carolina? Was it not for our country's good, and the promotion of such measures as would contribute ultimately to that object? Certainly that was the feeling and sentiment of the masses of the party; then after thus securing a triumphant victory, why lose it by division or dissension? The people have sent a majority of Democrats to the Legislature—knowing at the same time that a Senator to Congress was to elect; then what should a Democratic legislator ask, when a majority of his political colleagues nominate a candidate for that appointment? We all have our personal preferences, but who does the people desire, through their representatives, to be elected? I will answer, that the masses of the party desire them to unite, if possible, upon a man of known Democratic faith—and if they should differ as to the man, of course give their adhesion to the one that seems to satisfy a majority of the people. I mean the one that receives the nomination, by a fair majority of the people's representatives, and there can be but little doubt of his election giving general satisfaction to the party; but it seems that this is not the case. The people look for the election of a Democratic Senator. "Shall the people be heard?" If they are not they will "keep a sharp eye" on the legislators who have stifled their voice.

As to Free Suffrage, can it be possible that the Legislature of North Carolina has killed it? I answer no! emphatically no! They have checked it, but kill it they cannot. The people have willed it and are ready to ratify it, and they expect their legislators to give them a chance to ratify it, but in this it seems the people cannot at present be heard, ("rest ye assured" they will be.) Those who have thus set aside the expressed interest and rights of the people, for party purposes, will be remembered hereafter, for who, I ask, can refuse, after the measure has passed all the initiatory stages, to let the people be heard directly upon the subject? I can hardly believe there is such a legislator—but it seems there is enough such to reject the measure; but who are they? Whigs—save one (I mean the Senate) and that one, (say several Whig papers,) has been the Democratic anti-Free Suffrage legislator; thereby holding the party responsible for its failure, but on looking through our "blind specks" we find the names of some gentlemen voting against it who advocated it on the stump before the people, and they will hear of their consistency before they are elected to Congress, or again elected to carry out the people's views.

The election of Battle to fill the vacancy on Supreme Court Bench, no doubt, will satisfy all disinterested parties. A good selection and no mistake.

ONE OF THE PEOPLE.

Wilkes Co., Dec. 12th, 1852.

Internal Improvements. Internal Improvements of all sorts, shapes and sizes, are the order of the day throughout the country, and in no State that we know of is the feeling more strongly excited than in the good old North State, which seems at last anxious to dispense with, and repudiate her unfortunate sobriquet of Rip Van Winkle. Perhaps it displays itself less noisily than with some others, but a careful examination of the proceedings of recent Legislatures, and some knowledge of the views of the people of the interior, obtained through the medium of the press, and by actual contact with them in repeated visits to the Western section, have convinced us that this spirit amounts to a determination, and will not rest satisfied until a very general system shall have been perfected. The only difficulties to be dreaded are, that matters will be hurried on in advance of the available resources of the State; and that local and sectional interests may force through conflicting and perhaps mutually injurious schemes, thus destroying all idea of a system. It will be the policy of all thoughtful friends of Internal Improvement, and of the State, to make haste slowly and cautiously. Already we are threatened with two main lines through the State, competing with each other for the same through travel, we mean, of course, that by the Raleigh and Gaston and Central Road, connecting with the Charlotte and South Carolina Road, which will in some measure be a competitor with our line for the travel between the North and the South, and still again a connection between the Central Road at Greensborough and the Richmond and Danville Road is among the things to be dreaded in the future, being another competitor for the same travel and forming precisely the route contemplated by the friends of the Charlotte and Danville scheme. And further, it would seem that the idea of a metropolitan Route, from Raleigh to the South Carolina Roads, via. Fayetteville, Cheraw, etc., has not been yet abandoned, but has revived by the contemplated construction of the North Eastern Road from Charleston to a point on the line of the Manchester Road, and the Cheraw and Darlington Road from that point to Cheraw, with the avowed desire and intention on the part of the people of Charleston to extend it to the North Carolina Coal Mines in Chatham county, N. C. From the Mines to Raleigh is a very short distance, and that gap being filled, as filled it would be, the much talked of metropolitan route, another competitor for the same through travel would be completed.

It can neither be the interest of the State nor in accordance with any wise system or just policy to encourage and foster the construction of so many lines, which must necessarily prove mutually injurious instead of mutually advantageous to each other and to the State. What is done is done, and we will not say anything against it, but certainly it would seem that two routes through the State, the lower by way of Wilmington and the upper by way of Charlotte and Raleigh, are enough in that way, without setting up two others—the Charlotte and Danville and the Metropolitan. New works should either be feeders to those already constructed or should open up new channels of trade for themselves. We attach no blame to the counties along the line of, say, the Metropolitan route, for they, of course, want to be placed in communication with the rest of mankind by Railroad, and are willing to take up with any project which will afford them the facilities they require, but certainly it is the part of the Legislature of the State, while it affords to them the facilities which are their due, to see that the works for that purpose are planned with regard to some just system and will not have the effect of helping to cut the throats of works already constructed and in which the State is a large stockholder.

So far as the Charleston project of reaching our mines is concerned, it need give us very little uneasiness, so far, at least, as a competition in the coal trade is concerned. Our people will never abandon the Deep River improvement, until it can be made fully available, and if so made, some mode will be devised to remove the difficulties between this point and Fayetteville. Or, even supposing that a railroad communication should be considered indispensable, we have still immeasurably the advantage of Charleston. The charter of the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad gives it the power to construct branches. A branch from Faison's depot would reach the mines in a distance of a little over half more than the length of a road from Fayetteville to that point, and the branch could be built with the unsold stock of the company, which is over a million of dollars. We mention this merely as a matter of speculation, which it may never be necessary to reduce into practice, but which again it may, and which will be available to guard against certain contingencies.

Wilmington Journal.

The Eulogy of Hon. Horace Binney upon Hon. John Sergeant, in the Federal Court-room, in Philadelphia, is described by the papers of that city as eloquent in the extreme. When he had spoken for three-quarters of an hour, slowly and with deep feeling, he turned to his brethren at the bar and said, "Let no man pray for length of days, for the old man is left alone when he has buried all the friends of his youth. It was my grateful and painful duty three years ago to pay my last offering of regard to the memory of Chauncey. I now come to pay a like tribute to John Sergeant. This is probably the last time that my voice will ever be heard by my associates of the bar, and I now offer them my last friendly salutations." He sat down, evidently much moved. The room was silent.

FOR THE CURE OF THE TOOTHACHE.

One of the Greatest Discoveries of the 19th Century!

FROM the numerous applications I have had for the above preparation, for the last few months, the uniform success which has attended its use, its salutary effects, its power to give immediate relief in the severest cases of Toothache, I have been induced to offer it those who may be afflicted; with the utmost confidence in its virtue, and the full belief that it will subdue and give entire relief to the severest toothache without the slightest injury to the tooth. I have got (and can get) numerous testimonials of its efficacy—some from distinguished gentlemen, and all from as reliable persons as are in the State, a publication of which I deem unnecessary at this time, as one of these Drops when tried in an aching tooth will be worth more to the manufacturer and the patient, than all the certificates from great men that could be procured.

The preparation is known only to myself. Every phial is carefully put up by my own hands in the City of Raleigh and labelled with directions for use, and may be found at IRA BECKWITH'S Store, on Fayetteville St. a few doors North of the Yarbrough House, and opposite Lawrence's Hotel, where it will be constantly kept for sale either by the wholesale or retail. Also for sale by the retail at Jone's Drug Store, Sycamore street, Petersburg, Va., and at Andrew Bett's Store, Wake County, N. C. Retail price 50 cts. per Bottle—liberal deduction made when taken by the quantity.

To all who may have the toothache—try it, and then it will need no puffing.

All orders from a distance promptly attended to by Mr. Beckwith or myself.

NOVELTY WORKS,

WEST ST., RALEIGH, NORTH-CAROLINA,

SILAS BURNS, PROPRIETOR,

BUILDER OF

Steam Engines & General Machinist.

THE above establishment has been in successful operation about one year, and has turned out some of the best STEAM ENGINES and SAW MILLS that have ever operated in this or any other State.

Orders are solicited for Steam Engines and Saw Mills, Mill Gearing and Machinery of every discription to be completed during the Summer and Fall. The improved condition of the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road will enable me to fill with dispatch and punctuality all orders after the 1st of July.

The following certificate will show the character of the work executed at the above Works:

AUBRY, Cumberland, May 15, 1852.

Mr. SILAS BURNS,

Dear Sir: Our Engine and Mills, made at your shops, have been at work nearly two months, and fully meet our expectations. The ENGINE, as to FINISH and STRENGTH, PERFORMANCE and DURABILITY, is inferior to none in the State of the same class made here or elsewhere. The MILLS run with a smoothness and speed truly astonishing. In ordinary sawing we cut in a common sized log, 1 foot in 32 seconds or 16 feet per minute. We have run, however, through an 18 feet log in 32 seconds or at the rate of 33 feet per minute, by running to the top speed we fully believe we can cut 40 feet per minute. The only objection we have heard urged is, it takes two many hands to haul up logs and carry away lumber. Yours, &c.,

JONES & BARBEE.

"Eagle Hotel," Chapel Hill, for Sale

THE Proprietress of this well known and profitable establishment, having realized a sufficient income to warrant her in resuming the quiet of a private life, offers to the public generally the opportunity of bidding for its advantages.

The citizens of the State are so well acquainted with the advantages of its position, that but few remarks are necessary to complete their information.

The Hotel itself possesses all the requirments of room and comfort, which its purchasers can desire. It has capacity for the accommodation of one hundred and fifty boarders, and the recent and rapid growth of the University, adjacent, makes it an easy matterto possess such or even a greater number of students.

In addition to this, the frequent travel through Chapel Hill gives the Hotel, (being the only one in the place) a transient custom equal to any in the State.

The lots and stables adjoining are extensive and commodious, and the country-market supplies abundantly and on profitable terms much of its provisions.

The terms of sale require one third of the price to be paid on taking possession. A note, with safe security and time of payment suited to the convenience of the purchaser, are the reasonable demands for the remainder.

If further information be desired concerning the inducements to purchase, the President of the University or any other resident of the village, will furnish it.

Possession can be obtained at any time, after the 1st of May. Apply to ANNE S. HILLIARD.
